

Red Earth Theatre provides a platform to inspire and nurture many voices through live performance, and encourages dialogue exploring the human experience in our diverse communities.

Based in Northern Arizona, the Verde Valley-Cottonwood-Sedona region

RED EARTH THEATRE

- provides a 'home' where performing artists can develop, improve and express their craft
- bridges the arts community together to create opportunity for all to experience the making and sharing of story
- initiates dialogue which encourages community engagement around relevant issues

By Offering:

- Productions
Classic, contemporary, new works, musicals
- Staged Readings at a variety of venues
- Short Performances - 'Ready To Go'

For festivals, fundraisers, corporate events

- Theatre Workshops/Classes:
Different locations, a range of students
- Theatre-based Community Projects:
Performances produced in the community including site-specific creations

Red Earth Theatre also manages the Sedona Hub - a performing arts venue for the community. For more information: www.sedonahub.org

The Board

Kate Hawkes (Producing Artistic Director/Chair); Sarah Ann Lesslie (Vice Chair/Sec); John Crawford (Treasurer); Tonya June Moore, Irmgard Lake Marjorie Muro, Cathy Ransom, Dylan Marshall

Founded in July 2013.

Accepting tax-deductible Contributions
Checks made out to Red Earth Theatre

Call, email, visit the website to find out how you can be play, create and build community with Red Earth Theatre. Come to shows, join the Board, bring us ideas for collaborations.

The Work

Since Sept 2013 we've worked with more than 200 different individuals on stage/crew, and brought live theatre to thirteen Verde Valley locations:

- Crushes & Bouquets: The Wine Show (Sedona & Cottonwood) Crushes and Bouquets (II) with the Sedona Wine Festival at the Hub.
- Painting Churches: Made in Clarkdale, Sedona Arts Center & Old Town Center for the Arts
- Play readings of Family & 'Nite Mother at Java Love & Old Town Center for the Arts
- National Female Playwrights on Stage Projects (4 years) – with Little Black Dress Ink at Sedona Arts Center and The Hub
- The Wild Party with Sedona Jazzfest and Sedona Arts Center, and Made in Clarkdale
- Recycling with a Unicorn with Sedona Recycles (an original, site-specific show)
- Sky...Diamonds w/Yavapai Col Sedona Center
- Loplop and The Queen (a new play) with Sedona Art Museum at the Sedona Heritage Museum
- #Insecurities (co-produced) at Relics
- An Evening At The Pink Nectar Café, with Jim Bishop, outdoors at Indian Gardens
- Interiors: 2 Plays/2 Rooms with Sedona Arts Center at the 2015 Plein Air Festival
- This Earth We Call Home with Inspiration of Sedona/Climate Awareness
 - Shakespeare Acting Workshop (free)
- Traveling Through Shakespeare – an original show, Sedona Arts Center & The Collective -VOC
- The Stillness Show: supporting an art show
- 3x3x3+ - 3 theatre companies
- LBD Protest Plays – a national initiative
- Reflections through Theatre - Play Reading Series with Sedona Arts Center
- The Mouth Project – original musical/movie
- Round and Round the Garden (April'17)
- This Is My Brave with MHCVV
- Healing Narratives with Prescott VA
- Morley a new play by Irmgard Lake (Nov. 2017)

928-399-0997
www.redearththeatre.org
info@redearththeatre.org

SUPPORTERS & PARTNERS

Thank you for your support of Red Earth Theatre.
Your donation supports our ongoing operating and production expenses.

_____ $1,000 supports .5 Operating for a month
_____ $ 750 pays an actor for a show
_____ $ 500 contributes to set/costumes in a show

___ $25 ___ $50 ___ $250 ___ $750
___ $1,000 ___ $_____ (other amount)

Please make checks payable to:
Red Earth Theatre
Mail to: 205 Sunset Dr/135,Sedona,AZ 86336

Name: _____
Address: _____
Phone: _____
Email: _____

Your donation is tax deductible.
Red Earth Theatre is a 501(c)3
nonprofit organization